

Quick Response Guide - Meeting Cheat Sheet

Print this and keep it with you during the meeting!

Opening (30 seconds)

"Madam Eunice, thank you for meeting. The website is complete and ready to launch. I've prepared a contract outlining the work delivered and payment terms: KES 75,000 development and KES 12,000 quarterly maintenance. Let's go through it together."

Key Talking Points

Why No Contract Before?

"I apologize for not discussing this earlier. I wanted you to see the quality first. Now you can see exactly what you're getting - and it's excellent value."

Why Not Just Updates?

"The old PHP site was too risky to update. I built you something BETTER - a modern website with new features that will help WRW grow."

Why This Price?

"Kenya market: KES 49,280 to KES 200,000+ for custom sites. My price: KES 75,000. You're getting KES 150,000+ worth of work. This is very fair."

Why Maintenance?

"KES 4,000/month keeps your site secure, ranked on Google, and brings in free traffic. Without it, one hack could cost KES 50,000+ to fix."

If She Negotiates

Payment Flexibility (YES):

- ☒ 3 payments: KES 25k + 25k + 25k
- ☒ Delayed maintenance start
- ☒ First quarter free

Price Reduction (NO):

- ☒ Won't go below KES 60,000 development
- ☒ Won't go below KES 10,000/quarter maintenance

Closing Question

"What do you think? Shall we sign today and get this live for WRW?"

Quick Facts (Memorize These)

- 8 months of work: May 2025 - January 2026
- 10 pages delivered: Home, About, Team, Programs, Work, Resources, Activities, Careers, Contact, Donate
- Your price: KES 75,000 (fair market rate)
- Maintenance: KES 12,000/quarter = KES 4,000/month (very affordable)
- Market rates: KES 49,280 - KES 200,000+
- Your value: You delivered KES 150,000+ worth of work for KES 75,000

Remember

You are NOT:

- ☒ Asking for a favor
- ☒ Overcharging
- ☒ Being greedy

You ARE:

- ☒ A professional getting paid for professional work
- ☒ Offering excellent value

-  Supporting her mission with affordable rates

Stand confident. You've earned this. 