

EMAIL: Response to Handover Document Request

Subject: Re: Website Contract Agreement - Updated Contract & Handover Process Clarification

Dear Mrs. Eunice,

I hope this email finds you well.

Thank you for your email dated December 9, 2025, regarding the website contract agreement and handover document. I appreciate you sharing the document with me for review.

After carefully reviewing the handover document you sent, I have prepared a response that addresses the technical requirements and clarifies the handover process according to our agreement.

UPDATED CONTRACT & HANDOVER AGREEMENT

I have prepared two documents for your review:

1. Updated Website Development & Maintenance Agreement (CONTRACT.md)

- Revised to reflect our agreed payment terms (KES 60,000 total, 50/50 split)
- Includes clear handover process section (Section 5.16)
- Clarifies that handover takes place after full payment is received

2. Website & Social Media Handover Agreement (HANDOVER_AGREEMENT_DEVELOPER.md)

- Professional handover document that addresses the technical requirements
- Aligned with the Next.js/Vercel platform we're using
- Includes options for social media 2FA codes
- Ready for use when handover time comes

IMPORTANT CLARIFICATIONS

Handover Process Timeline

As clearly outlined in Section 5.16 of the updated contract, the handover process follows this timeline:

1. Contract Signing First: The main contract must be signed by both parties before any handover begins

2. After Payment 1 (KES 30,000): Website launches, Vercel dashboard access provided
3. After Payment 2 (KES 60,000 - FULL PAYMENT): Complete handover process begins (all credentials, GitHub access, documentation)

Key Point: The handover document you sent references systems that don't apply to our Next.js website (like WordPress CMS). The handover agreement I've prepared is specifically tailored to our technical setup and will be used when the time comes.

Technical Differences

The handover document you sent references:

- WordPress CMS (Content Management System) - We're using Next.js, not WordPress
- Traditional dashboard editing - Next.js requires coding for updates
- Domain registrar credentials - These already remain with Workers' Rights Watch

The handover agreement I've prepared addresses these technical realities and provides accurate information about what will actually be transferred.

RECOMMENDATION FOR FUTURE DOCUMENTS

As your website developer and technical consultant, I would be happy to review and provide input on any technical documents or agreements before they are finalized. This will help ensure:

-  Technical accuracy (matching our Next.js/Vercel setup)
-  Alignment with our signed contract terms
-  Avoidance of confusion or misunderstandings
-  Professional documentation that reflects the actual technical requirements

I'm always available to consult on technical matters and documentation to ensure everything is accurate and aligned with our agreement.

NEXT STEPS

1. Please review the updated CONTRACT.md - This is the primary document that governs our agreement
2. Review the HANDOVER_AGREEMENT_DEVELOPER.md - This shows what will be included when handover happens (after full payment)
3. Sign the main contract first - This must be done before any handover process begins

4. Handover will proceed automatically - After Payment 2 (full payment) is received and cleared, as per Section 5.16 of the contract

SOCIAL MEDIA CLARIFICATION

Regarding social media accounts: As noted in the handover agreement, all social media credentials were already transferred to Workers' Rights Watch on February 18, 2025. Cynthia has been successfully managing and publishing content since then. The only remaining item is the 2FA backup codes, for which I've provided options in the handover agreement.

I'm happy to discuss any questions or clarifications you may have. The updated contract and handover agreement are attached for your review.

Looking forward to finalizing the contract so we can proceed with the website launch.

Best regards,

Enock Kibe Ngunyi
